

Indiana University Memorial Union Board presents:

“Expressions of Dr. King’s Dream: A Legacy of Arts” Call-Out Meeting

BLOOMINGTON, Ind, - The Indiana University Memorial Union Board Outreach Committee have partnered with the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day Celebration Planning Committee at Indiana University, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., and the Office of Diversity Education to put together an event for students to creatively express their interpretation of Dr. King’s legacy.

A call-out meeting is being held to search for talented actors, dancers, musicians and artists who are interested in participating in the student showcase in January. The call-out meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 2 at 7:00PM in the Bridgewater’s lounge of the Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center. There is no cost of admission to attend the call-out.

Contacts:

Jasmine Collins & Jasmine Starks, Dr. MLK, Jr. Day Celebration Planning Committee: mlkjr@indiana.edu

Amanda Malkowski, Union Board Public Relations & Marketing Director: ubpr@indiana.edu